Glory for Girls Coconut Scrub

I recently purchased some Glory for Girls products for my daughter for her birthday and I can't say enough good things about it. She loves her coconut scrub made with soy to exfoliate. And I love feel good about spending my money on these products because of the quality of ingredients that are all natural and biodegradable. They're US-made and they even thought about the packaging, which is recycled. I went on their website to learn more and they're taking a holistic approach to health too by providing tips on healthy lifestyle choices and skin care advice. I can't say enough good things about Glory for Girls!
