Natural Fun Beauty Finds!

Labels: Beauty, Products |

All of the products I am showing you are totally earth friendly, and some can be found at your local drugstore! By the end of this post you be able to tell I REALLY love Target :).I myself am a teenager, and I love the cute color accents that add some fun to your style. So I added in some young fun organic things too! You don't have to be a pale and plain while using earth friendly products! You can look the same, or better!First we will start off with the make-up. Even if you don't wear a lot of make-up, you can find some that can really have the same or better effect, and can make your face a lot cleaner and better feeling and looking.

Before we go into lips, I will just tell you I am seriously a fan for life of Burt's Bees. All of their products are 80-99% natural (go them) and their lip balm is the best ever!
